In10City Signature Mashups

What is a Mashup?

In the DJ world, the term mashup typically means that two or more songs are joined together and layered onto one another. In10City is one of the first live bands in the country to specialize in the creation of Mashups in the live music arena. It is IMPORTANT to realize that a 'Mashup', as performed by In10City does NOT mean you don't hear the whole song. It is a common concern that In10City doesn't play full songs, which is absolutely not the case. Most arrangements that involve the 'Mashup' concept are full length songs performed back to back in a non-stop fashion to keep the energy high. The short 15-30 second 'Mashup' would most commonly follow the full song performances as a 'finale' to that 5-8 minutes of dance music.

Common Q&A

What does it mean when I see the word 'Remix' by a song title?

It usually means that the song has either been creatively re-arranged to make it more dance-able, it has been shortened to be used in a longer medley of stylistically similar songs (usually done on older songs that don't require full length performances to be effective), or edited to remove objectionable material in some cases.

Can I have input as to what songs are 'Mashed Up'?

To create Mashups for a live band is a very intensive process for In10City's arrangers. They are not simple ideas, and can't easily be modified from their existing form. However, it is VERY important to realize that a song being included in an In10City Signature Mashup does NOT mean the full song is not performed. Think of the 'Mashup' as a bonus 30 seconds of high energy dance material - IN ADDITION to the song, not instead of it.

Will In10City learn songs for my wedding or corporate event?

Absolutely. The band will learn up to (3) special songs or special moments in your wedding reception or purposeful moments in your event. We do request 30 days advance notice, along with audio copies of the song and arrangement you are requesting.

Will I be able to work directly with the band to coordinate my event?

Yes. You will be given the appropriate contact within the band that you may discuss and plan your event with once the event is contracted. It is always our desire to make your wedding or event special, and to deliver results beyond your expectation. Clear communication about the event is critical to our being able to best serve you. You will find that we're readily available and truly concerned about meeting your needs.
